9th Young Social Scientists' Conference, 2026 January 29 – 30, 2026

Organized by:

Omeo Kumar Das Institute of Social Change and Development

(An Autonomous Institute Under ICSSR and Govt. of Assam)

The Omeo Kumar Das Institute of Social Change and Development (OKDISCD) has been organizing seminars, symposia, workshops, and conferences to provide a platform for research scholars since its inception. The Young Social Scientists' Conference (YSSC) is an annual event that encourages and facilitates young scholars working on diverse issues of Northeast India to present and discuss their research. The event is an effort by the Institute to promote critical thinking, interdisciplinary dialogue, and academic networking among early-career researchers addressing issues of significance to Northeast India.

The objective of the Conference is to provide a platform for young scholars to present original and preliminary research. It further aims to provide participants with constructive feedback, opportunities for intellectual exchange with senior academicians, subject experts, and peers. The Conference particularly encourages interdisciplinary research presentations that reflect the diversity and complexities of Northeast India.

Themes of the Conference

Northeast India is widely recognized for its geographical, cultural, and ethnic diversity, as well as its unique developmental challenges. Considering this, the YSSC 2026 invites submissions on the following themes:

1. Socio-political Dynamics of the Region
2. Economic Development and Livelihood
3. Labour Market Dynamics
4. Migration and Development
5. Environment and Ecological Challenges
6. Public Health and Well-being
7. Gender Issue

Submissions on other topics related to Northeast India are also welcome.
